To those with interest in supporting the efforts of PDP and GEPEC:

Dr. Daryl Beach left us with many innovations applicable to the delivery of health care. It is the mission of the Global Engineering, Promotion, and Education Collaborative (GEPEC) to carry them forward on a global scale. The goal of GEPEC is to have proprioceptively derived (pd) care in pd clinics. PDP is the Japanese NPO that has been instrumental in preserving and propagating pd standards, as well as, sponsoring training of dental clinic personnel. The goal of these two organizations will not be achieved without supportive local and global activities to further disseminate the legacy of Dr. Beach. GEPEC needs continued research documenting the many beneficial effects of applying pd to training health care personnel in pd settings and PDP needs effective and efficient training curriculums in many languages.

I am asking everyone who knew Dr. Beach or has learned of or experienced the effect that pd can have on professional careers to contribute to this cause through a monetary donation to PDP and GEPEC.

Several collaborating organizations that depend on GEPEC include:

The Intercountry Centre for Oral Health (ICOH) opened in Chiang Mai, Thailand, in November, 1981. In 1984, as part of this countries mandate to promote new approaches to the delivery of oral health care, it initiated a demonstration project known as the Community Care Model for Oral Health that was developed by Dr. Beach and approved by the World Health Organization.

The Auroville Dental Centre Education Research Rural Action (ADCERRA) (<http://ruraldentalcare.in>) is within the Health and Healing Trust of Auroville Foundation, while the Auroville Foundation is under jurisdiction of the Ministry of Human Resource Development of India. ADCERRA has been active for developing sustainable rural dental health care models for India based on the work of Dr. Beach.

Sincerely,

Michael Dougherty, DDS
President, GEPEC for Systematic Healthcare
